c. 349 – September 14, 407

Saint John Chrysostom

“The ambiguity and intrigue surrounding John, the great preacher (his name means “golden-mouthed”) from Antioch, are characteristic of the life of any great man in a capital city. Brought to Constantinople after a dozen years of priestly service in Syria, John found himself the reluctant victim of an imperial ruse to make him bishop in the greatest city of the empire. Ascetic, unimposing but dignified, and troubled by stomach ailments from his desert days as a monk, John became a bishop under the cloud of imperial politics.

If his body was weak, his tongue was powerful. The content of his sermons, his exegesis of Scripture, were never without a point. Sometimes the point stung the high and mighty. Some sermons lasted up to two hours.

His lifestyle at the imperial court was not appreciated by many courtiers. He offered a modest table to episcopal sycophants hanging around for imperial and ecclesiastical favors. John deplored the court protocol that accorded him precedence before the highest state officials. He would not be a kept man.

His zeal led him to decisive action. Bishops who bribed their way into office were deposed. Many of his sermons called for concrete steps to share wealth with the poor. The rich did not appreciate hearing from John that private property existed because of Adam’s fall from grace any more than married men liked to hear that they were bound to marital fidelity just as much as their wives were. When it came to justice and charity, John acknowledged no double standards.

Aloof, energetic, outspoken, especially when he became excited in the pulpit, John was a sure target for criticism and personal trouble. He was accused of gorging himself secretly on rich wines and fine foods. His faithfulness as spiritual director to the rich widow, Olympia, provoked much gossip attempting to prove him a hypocrite where wealth and chastity were concerned. His actions taken against unworthy bishops in Asia Minor were viewed by other ecclesiastics as a greedy, uncanonical extension of his authority.

Theophilus, archbishop of Alexandria, and Empress Eudoxia were determined to discredit John. Theophilus feared the growth in importance of the Bishop of Constantinople and took occasion to charge John with fostering heresy. Theophilus and other angered bishops were supported by Eudoxia. The empress resented his sermons contrasting gospel values with the excesses of imperial court life. Whether intended or not, sermons mentioning the lurid Jezebel and impious Herodias were associated with the empress, who finally did manage to have John exiled. He died in exile in 407.

Reflection

John Chrysostom's preaching, by word and example, exemplifies the role of the prophet to comfort the afflicted and to afflict the comfortable. For his honesty and courage, he paid the price of a turbulent ministry as bishop, personal vilification, and exile."

Families and Friends of St. Mary's Springs Academy,

The volunteers of the parent-run Athletic Booster Club (ABC) and Parents for the Performing Arts (PPA) invite you to help support student athletic and performing arts activities as part of our joint appeal. These annual donations are essential for our pre-K through 12 students to help offset the expenses that are required to provide these opportunities. Your generosity provides support to both groups with this single direct donation appeal.

In order for this gift to be tax deductible and 100% charitable, no goods or services will be provided in exchange for the donations that benefit our students completely. Below is information that you will find valuable:

About the ABC

- Funds raised by the ABC are used to help support, maintain and promote athletes and programs such as uniforms, equipment, locker room projects, fan busses, concession improvements, scholarships, and much more.
- There are over 46 athletic programs that engage more than 80% of our students at SMSA, Pre-K through 12.

About the PPA

- Funds raised by the PPA are used to support student musical and play performances, band concerts, talent shows, scholarships, community performances, Jazz Night, forensics and student trips that help improve the program.
- The high school productions for the coming year are Amateurs and The Sound of Music.

Donating to these booster efforts is easy! Follow the simple steps below and return the form with your check payable to SMSA ABC/PPA, 255 County Road K, Fond du Lac, WI 54937.

Please know as you consider your support, each and every gift makes a difference and is appreciated. For more information or to volunteer for either group, visit the SMSA website or contact one of us below.

As a Girl Scout, your daughter will engage in healthy activities, gain entrepreneurship and finance skills, explore the great outdoors, build skills in science and technology and take on meaningful community service projects!

Membership is open to all girls, including those who are physically or mentally challenged, who are 5-17 years old, make the Girl Scout Promise, accept the Girl Scout Law and pay the annual $25 membership fee. Financial assistance is available to new Girl Scouts in need.

Generally, a large majority of the troop activities are paid through the proceeds of the Cookie Sale activity. Troops also collect modest troop dues. When more adventurous activities require, the girls in a troop may do money-earning activities in addition to the Cookie Sale activity.

Recently a survey of women told us that the skills they most wished they had gained as a girl were comfort with taking risks and determination to try again until they reached success.

Girl Scouts is the perfect place for girls to build these skills!

Research shows that, far more than girls in co-ed experiences, Girl Scouts are more likely to:

Take on challenges with confidence they will succeed.

Demonstrate kindness and compassion for others.

Get higher grades.

Maintain their self-confidence as teens.

Be the leaders in their peer group and classroom.

Obtain higher education and in science and technology fields.

Girl Scouts are more likely to be successful now and have a lifetime of success.

Marian Consecration & St. Maximilian Kolbe

St. Maximilian Kolbe founded the Militia Immaculata on October 16, 1917, just three days after the Miracle of the Sun in Fatima. The Militia is open to Catholics of all walks of life and promotes total consecration to Mary as a most effective way to live one's Baptism and Confirmation. The aim of the MI is "to win the whole world for Christ through the Immaculata," Mother of God and of the Church.

The National Coordinator of the Militia Immaculata will be coming to Holy Family on Thursday, September 14 at 6:30 in the Holy Family Hall. Come learn about Marian Consecration and St. Maximilian Kolbe and learn how you can become part of the Militia Immaculata and help Mary win hearts for Christ.

"In entrusting ourselves to Mary's maternal care and protection, we benefit from her intercession, joining our feeble efforts to her powerful prayers and her closeness to Jesus"
